February is fine. And yes you had tentatively booked Jan 15th. But you did not confirm and/or advise that there was a change.

Yes I got the shipment -

- 1 - it was overweight - was about 50-60lbs.
- 2 - Bags of discs were loosely thrown in and about half of them burst making it a carton of mixed disks that we have to now sort.
- 3 - As before there are NO itemized packing slips.
- 4 - The invoice does NOT reflect the actual shipment hence I paid duty and GST on an inaccurate amount.
- 5 - Can you ensure that any future custom invoices actually match the product shipped and an itemized packing slip that our receiving department can actually check off would be really nice. They tend to bitch back there when I ask them to write it out themselves. Also nothing to check against doesn't help to check if something is missing.

As requested before - please advise on the following

- One of my last emails linked to a photograph showing you the different shades of green. Have received no reply or comment
- You have also not replied as to the status of the 2 equipment items.
- Lots of stuff is also still on backorder. Still no detailed delivery schedule as requested
- Are these replies forthcoming - or do we just don't know?

Thanks
Hans
